

FREE TECH PARENTING CLASSES

Dear New Sullivan Family,

New Sullivan Elementary School, Chicago Arts Partnerships in Education (CAPE), and Orion's University College for Kids (OU) program want to offer secure technology-savvy workshops for our parent community to support remote learning within Chicago Public Schools (CPS).

We value your technology-support. It is critical to meet the needs of your scholar's remote learning experience. Consider participating in one of the Free Tech Parenting Class sessions that are coming up this summer. This is your chance to receive FREE technology training that will help us continue strengthening our community's digital interactions. Our technology training will be guided by the OU Technology Instructor, which explores various technical apps used by your child at New Sullivan Elementary School.

You can add this session to your calendar by clicking:

Consider lending your time to learn new technology platforms used at New Sullivan. You are the most important partners we have. We look forward to your participation as we strive to achieve our vision of high-quality education for every child at New Sullivan Elementary School. More than ever, New Sullivan, CAPE, and OU's are committed to helping your family acquire technology skills this summer.
